SHOP IRVINE

AND COMMUNITY ACCESS GUIDE

DEAR IRVINE SHOPPERS AND MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNITY:

What do you get when you shop or dine at one of the nearly 50 shopping centers located in Irvine? You get a city recognized for five straight years as the safest city in America. You get a city that is known around the world for its quality educational facilities – a key ingredient for businesses looking for the best place to locate, grow and stay. You also get a master-planned city that is one of the most desirable locations in the country in which to live.

When you SHOP IRVINE, you help everyone: One cent of sales tax for each dollar spent goes into the City's general fund, which supports city services such as public safety, street and park maintenance, and community planning standards. And with more than 14,000 businesses located in Irvine, you can find almost anything within the convenience of Irvine's boundaries.

The Irvine Chamber and the City of Irvine are proud to offer this publication to help you locate a retail and dining bonanza as well as the city resources that make your Irvine lifestyle special. The guide's convenient size allows you to store it in a drawer by your phone or in the glove box of your car. We urge you to refer to this guide throughout the year and explore the many treasures Irvine has to offer.

This Shop Irvine Guide is a publication of the Irvine Chamber of Commerce, supported by the City of Irvine and The Irvine Company.

These listings include retailers and retail-oriented businesses located in Irvine shopping centers, as well as retail-oriented businesses in other locations. Also included are professional and medical services located in participating shopping centers and those professional services who are Irvine Chamber of Commerce members in other centers.

This is a guide to assist you in patronizing your local retailers. It is not a comprehensive listing of all businesses in Irvine.

The information in this publication is carefully gathered and compiled to ensure maximum accuracy. The Irvine Chamber of Commerce cannot, and does not, guarantee either the correctness of all information furnished them, nor the complete absence of errors and omissions. Hence, responsibility for same neither can be, nor is assumed.

DISASTER PREPAREDNESS

Emergency Planning for Home, Work and the Community

In Orange County no community is immune from the potential of a disaster. When life threatening incidents occur, like the recent Southern California wildfires, having an emergency plan in place can save lives and provide peace of mind, even during the most trying of times.

Start a Family Communication Plan

Be proactive and set up a family communication plan. When a disaster strikes, your family may not be together. Arrange to have each family member contact the same friend or relative. Because local communication may be disrupted during an emergency, it is wise to use an out-of-state contact. Save this phone number on family cell phones or create wallet-sized emergency contact cards for each family member.

Plan an Evacuation Route

If an emergency evacuation is ordered, be prepared to assemble and move your family. Always keep at least a half tank of gas in your car and learn various routes in and out of Irvine. Establish several evacuation destinations in different directions. Also, become familiar with other forms of transportation. One of these options may become your best evacuation plan. Remember to include pets and an emergency supply kit in your plan. Lastly, before you evacuate, lock up your house and then tune into Irvine radio station 1640 AM for instructions and temporary shelter locations.

Develop an Emergency Checklist for School, Work and Home

Find out how your employer will communicate with families during an emergency. If you have children, learn about their school's emergency plan and notification procedures. Finally, talk to your neighbors about emergency preparedness; a community working together makes a difference. Enrolling in Irvine's Community Emergency Response Teams (CERT) program is also a great way for neighbors to learn valuable emergency response skills.

Seek Additional Emergency Planning Information

To access emergency planning resources, visit the Irvine Police Department at www.irvinepd.org. Scroll down on the navigation menu under Irvine Police Divisions to Emergency Management.

Profile

Imagine having a health plan where you have access to more than 875 well-trained physicians twenty-four hours a day; where the best in high tech medicine is the standard; and, where obtaining your medical information, including talking to your physician over e-mail, is just a 'mouse click' away. That is Kaiser Permanente Orange County. And we're here for you, just as we have been for the past 30 years.

Presently, 390,000 Orange County residents receive their health care from Kaiser Permanente Orange County. When you choose to do so, you not only gain access to state-of-the-art health care but also to a partner in health. With two medical centers, 19 medical offices throughout the County, and hospital-based Centers of Excellence in Orthopedics, Neurosurgery, and Head and Neck Surgery, our members know that when they need us, we will be there for them.

Note Worthy

Recognized as a leader in preventative care and research, and received recognition for having the ranking "Highest Member Satisfaction among Commercial Health Plans in California" in the J.D. Power and Associates 2009 National Health Insurance Plan Study.SM

In 2008, Kaiser Permanente Orange County led the organization in breast cancer screening rates and in hypertension control, followed by recognition for both cervical cancer screenings and diabetes in control measures.

Through HealthConnect™ Kaiser Permanente's electronic medical record system, members have access to My Health Manager, an online personal health record through which they can help manage their health. My Health Manager allows patients to set appointments, refill prescriptions and access lab test results and their children's immunization records. As a result, Kaiser Permanente was just awarded the Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society award for leadership in the use of health information technology.

A Green Irvine

Commitment to a Sustainable Future Makes Irvine one of Nation's "Greenest" Cities

The City of Irvine has built a national reputation for its commitment to sustainability, energy conservation and green building, with a long history of environmental stewardship including open space preservation, protecting the environment, and conserving natural resources.

In 2006, Irvine was one of the first cities in the state to adopt a comprehensive green building program, which allowed developers to volunteer for a higher level of green building in the City. In September 2009, Irvine also became the first city in Orange County, and only the second city in the State, to volunteer for early adoption of California's new Green Building Standards Code. As a municipal leader in green building, Irvine's April 1, 2010 implementation date for the new California Green Code is nine months in advance of the mandatory implementation date in January 2011.

To guide Irvine's path to sustainability, the City adopted a comprehensive Energy Plan in July 2008. The 20-year plan seeks to increase energy efficiency, increase the use of renewable energy, and reduce greenhouse gas emissions throughout the City. The cornerstone of the Energy Plan is to involve the entire community: businesses, residents, visitors, schools, and local government.

Several programs are in place that make Irvine one of the nation's "greenest" cities. These programs promote a sustainable future and reflect the City's commitment to environmental stewardship.

Climate Action Plan – In 2008, the City began an inventory of city-wide greenhouse gas emissions from all sectors of the community. This enabled the City to project target reductions in line with the State's Global Warming Solutions Act of 2006. Using these reduction targets, the City is now drafting a Climate Action Plan addressing the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions in Irvine. The Plan provides a menu of reduction strategies including increasing renewable energy sources such as solar, energy efficiency in buildings and building codes, and encouraging riding bikes, ridesharing, telecommuting and mass transit.

Zero Waste Ordinance – The City's Zero Waste Ordinance provides for the elimination of waste and pollution in the manufacture, use, storage and recycling of materials. This goal is being achieved by actively encouraging Irvine residents, businesses and agencies to use, reuse and recycle materials judiciously.

Water and Air Pollution

Prevention – The City strives to create a community that protects air and water quality. To this end, a number of programs promote pollution prevention and conservation including the areas of storm water runoff, water friendly landscaping, and air quality management.

Open Space Preservation – As a result of Irvine’s landmark 1988 voter approved open space initiative, more than 16,000 acres — one-third of the entire city — has been or will eventually be preserved as parks, trails and natural wild lands, protecting some of the most important and stunning chaparral landscapes in California.

ZEV-NET – Located at the Irvine Station, the zero emission vehicle networking (ZEV-NET) program provides a fleet of electric cars to commuters that can be rented via the internet.

Hydrogen-Fueled Cars – UC Irvine, home of the National Fuel Cell Research Center, in partnership with Toyota Motor Company, is working with the City to develop a hydrogen-fueling network. The program includes plans to build a hydrogen fuel cell demonstration project at the Orange County Great Park.

The i Shuttle – The City has initiated a local area shuttle to complement regional bus service in the 2,600-acre

Irvine Business Complex. The local shuttle provides direct express service to and from the nearby rail station as well as providing employees and residents with a green alternate mode of transportation.

The Orange County Great Park –

The City of Irvine’s sustainability ethic has been carried to the Orange County Great Park, including programs promoting renewable energy, water conservation, biodiversity, air quality, stewardship of natural resources, and environmentally friendly transit. Located on the former El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, the park promises to be one of the largest, most sustainable public projects in the U.S.

The City of Irvine believes local communities can help make the world a better place in which to live, work, and embrace new energy technologies by setting high standards for a sustainable future.

5050 Barranca Parkway, Irvine, California 92604-4652 / 949.936.5000 / FAX 949.936.5259 / www.iusd.org

Dear Irvine community:

Since its inception, the Irvine Unified School District has strived for momentum above stability, pursuing continuous improvement in all aspects of our organization, from maintenance and transportation to our core mission of student learning. Far from resting on past successes, this district is annually engaged in a competition against its own history, with each autumn presenting an opportunity to top the accomplishments of the previous year.

Established in 1972, IUSD now serves a diverse population of approximately 27,000 students in 22 elementary schools, five middle schools, four comprehensive high schools and one continuation high school. These stellar campuses have earned the label of California Distinguished School 40 times since 1986, and all four of our comprehensive high schools have been recognized at least once. This district is also home to 13 national Blue Ribbon Schools, and each year our campuses exceed their state goals and earn scores of prestigious awards in art, music, science and athletics.

Teachers and administrators of the highest caliber continually assess and refine proven learning strategies in Irvine, and while we are proud of the resulting test scores and accolades, they are far from the focus. Instead, IUSD's strategic plan is based on the premise that all students can and will become contributing members of society, empowered with the skills, knowledge and values necessary to meet the challenges of a changing world. In addition to rigorous academics, many of our students also participate in music programs, athletics, the performing arts, clubs and other activities that nurture creativity and promote lifelong bonds.

IUSD is fortunate to serve a community that truly values education, from the parents who emphasize learning and set aside time for their children to read and study, to the business executives, senior citizens and community leaders who are generous with both their time and money. Each recognizes that the quality of life around us is a reflection of what happens in our schools.

While the ongoing state fiscal crisis poses significant challenges, our Board of Education and our staff will continue to use thoughtful research to get the most out of our available resources. At the same time, IUSD relies on the generosity of friends and supporters who donate funds through the Irvine Public Schools Foundation. We urge all who value public education in Irvine to support IPSF's dynamic programs by contributing to this worthwhile organization.

We have definitely come far in Irvine. Our teachers, staff, students and parents have set a standard of excellence that is difficult to match. But day after day, month after month, semester after semester, our mission is nothing short of academic progress and student advancement, pursuing momentum above all.

Sincerely,

Gwen E. Gross, Ph.D.
