

Strong Cities, Strong State

The League of California Cities has enlisted communities throughout the state to post their priority programs and descriptions on a special page. The City of Irvine has done so.

Priority programs of the City include public safety, environmental sustainability and green building, open space preservation, energy conservation and recycling, multi-modal transportation, voter registration and participation, educational partnerships, infrastructure rehabilitation, affordable housing, a healthy community, geographic policing, and youth, family and senior services. These shared community values have been critical to Irvine's success over time and its natural evolution as a multi-layered, culturally integrated city. They are reflected among the many California cities that have opted to participate.
