

PARRISA YAZDANI

City Commissioner/Businesswoman

I'm Parrisa Yazdani and I'm running for City Council to ensure your voice is heard.

My children have thrived attending schools in Cypress Village, Portola Springs, and the Great Park Neighborhoods, and I started my small business in the Woodbury Town Center.

When our community faced a string of robberies, I led the effort with fellow residents to form a Neighborhood Watch group.

When the City proposed a permanent street closure that caused evacuation concerns in our high fire risk area, I organized meetings with City leaders and we successfully petitioned the City to keep the street open.

When decisions affecting our neighborhood were being influenced by outside political forces, I helped mobilize residents to ensure their voices cut through the special interests.

As your next Councilmember, I will:

Keep Irvine America's Safest City by supporting Irvine Police officers

Protect Irvine's quality of life by ensuring responsible and managed development, as well as reducing traffic

Support Irvine's healthy and robust economy by partnering with employers and local small businesses

I've spent years advocating and fighting for our community. I hope I can earn your vote so I can be your voice on the City Council.
